Hey Kristen,

Fortunately, this was a small seep from a "dead leg" line on our sour naphtha rundown line. Alvin and I estimate that it was no more than 2 bbls that seeped from the line. I calculated the benzene to be a very small amount as the naphtha contains 1.17 ppm benzene.

→ between tank 337 + 338

Thank you for notifying us of the leak discovery in the sour naphtha line on 12/12/17. If it was large enough to warrant a spill report/C141 please submit the report within the next week.

Thanks again,
Kristen
